Fullhurst Community College is a mixed 11- 16 school for 900 pupils serving the community of Braunstone in Leicester.

The BSF investment delivered a part new build, part refurbished school in January 2009.

“We are very excited by the prospect of our new school. The facilities and technology will be second to none. The schools design integrates the tradition of our historic building with modern architecture. For Fullhurst, BSF will put the school at the heart of the community and give people a focus point for high quality education.”

A new look

The school will on completion be a combination of high quality new design whilst retaining the character of the existing school. The existing main school spine is being refurbished with the front façade retained. A new extension to the existing school contains new IT rich flexible teaching spaces.
